

FREE SPORTS CLINIC FOR CHILDREN WITH SPECIAL NEEDS

Cosponsored by
The Autism Think
Tank NJ

Benefits of the All Star Youth Clinic at Rowan University School of Osteopathic Medicine

- Allows special needs children who are between the ages of 6 and 15 years the chance to learn a new sport, make new friends, be part of a team and have fun!
- Clinic available weekday evenings each month in the medical school's gymnasium on the Stratford campus
- New sports, such as basketball, whiffle ball, soccer or kickball, introduced monthly
- Group and individual attention for your child by medical students and physician faculty at the School of Osteopathic Medicine
- Promote desensitization between future doctors and children with special needs
- Completely non-competitive and stress-free environment
- No cost for children to participate

For More Information

Please fill out corresponding interest form for more information.

Rowan University

SCHOOL OF OSTEOPATHIC MEDICINE